

KY- A S A P Celebrates Family Day all across the Commonwealth.....

Frankfort...

Heather French Henry and daughter, Harper, joined Larry Carrico, members of the Franklin County and Fayette County Local Boards, Franklin County parents and children and others for a celebration in Frankfort.

Marshall County...

A weeklong celebration began on September 4th when renowned speaker, Pam Stenzel spoke on the issues of sexuality, the importance of abstinence and character building skills to parents and students at Marshall County High. Marshall Countians were encouraged to attend the church of your choice as a family on Sunday, take a family walk on Monday, play a board game together on Tuesday and eat supper together as a family on Wednesday. A special luncheon was held that included speaker Bob Arnold, Executive Director of KACO and Judge/ Executive Mike Miller. They finished off the weeklong celebration with an event to remember those we lost on September 11, 2001.

Campbellsville...

The Campbellsville/ Taylor County Anti- Drug Coalition and Central KY- A S A P Local Board in collaboration with the Taylor County Family Resource Center handed out flyers with information about Family Day. They attached free movie rentals from the Family Resource Center, bookmarks and a free food coupon. These items were given to each child at Taylor County Elementary. Good teamwork!

The KY- ASAP Black Patch Council ...

The Council placed ads in 8 newspapers and sponsored numerous radio spots. In Caldwell County and Lyon County, schools held special activities for the day. The Black Patch Council includes Lyon, Trigg, Caldwell and Livingston Counties. Bernice Scott of Eddyville enjoyed lunch with her granddaughter (left).

Crittenden County...

The Crittenden County Coalition for a Drug Free Community championed Family Day as a means to emphasize the importance of regular family activities as a way to facilitate parent-child communication and encourage Crittenden County to make family dinners a regular feature of their lives. Judge/ Executive Pippi Hardin signed a proclamation acknowledging Family Day in Crittenden County on Sept. 22.

Lake Cumberland KY- ASAP...

In Adair County 11 restaurants offered discounts. The local newspaper participated by printing them free of charge. The coupons and information regarding Family Day were distributed at various events and by the schools. The local county extension representative did an article in the paper about Family Day and provided recipes that were nutritious and healthy for working moms.

In Wayne County the Family Resource/ Youth Service Center sponsored "Donuts for Dad and Muffins for Mom—A Day to Eat Breakfast with your Child." Moms, dads and children had breakfast together at schools in Wayne County on September 22nd and received information regarding Family Day. Over 500 parents attended the event.

Many thanks to Penn Station East Coast Subs for supplying us with grilled sandwiches, chips and drinks for our lunch at the celebration in Frankfort. Penn Station has been a supporter of our Family Day celebration for the last 2 years and have pledged their commitment to us for Family Days in the future.
